

Traveling in the Post-Pandemic World

By Michelle Waldron

Website Description

Do you love to visit new places and explore different cultures, but have only explored your city, state, or home country? Have you traveled the world and want tips to improve your experiences?

This website is designed to inspire and encourage anyone to travel. The distance is unimportant, but the journey is why we travel. Allowing yourself to forfeit a comfort zone is difficult, especially in the 21st Century and with a global pandemic. Travel now more than ever has become complicated, stressful, and expensive.

This website contains information on:

- a) Travel basics - how to plan and organize a trip abroad. Things to consider, obstacles, insurance, locations, and activities.
- b) Travel tips for the novice and experienced traveler. What are our common or shared experiences of travel? What are the best and worst experiences?
- c) Packing for any trip - overnight, weekend, or long haul. What do you need to take on your journey and what can be left behind?
- d) Developing an enjoyable travel itinerary - A holiday no matter how long or short should be enjoyable and allow travelers to relax. A jam packed itinerary with no room for bathroom breaks is not fun.
- e) Creative Travel - develop your own collage or online "scrapbook". Reflection and sharing is part of travel. Don't forget that there are many resources that can help showcase your pictures or videos or even help make you "instafamous".

Target Audience

The target audience for this project is anyone interested in travel or learning more about good travel planning. The website is designed for novice or expert travelers and will connect individuals with resources, provide important travel data, and help travelers to plan an epic adventure.

Learning Objectives

1. Using this website as a guide prospective travelers will be able to recognize travel resources with 100% accuracy.
2. Using the packing tips on this website travelers will be able to recall packing needs with 80% accuracy.
3. Using the travel basics page of this website travelers will be able to summarize how to book a trip easily online with 100% accuracy.